Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-4, drawn to a method of making of making an infectious clone.

Group II, claim(s) 10-19, drawn to nucleic acids.

Group III, claim(s) 5-7 and 20-22, drawn to a recombinant virus, a cell culture containing the virus and a vaccine.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: using positive stranded RNA viruses for expressing heterologous RNA's or proteins is well established in the art. The methods of manipulating the nucleic acid sequences and infecting host cells to produce persistently infected cultures is also well established see Frolov et al. (see PNAS 1996, IDS Paper No. 3). Therefore, Groups I-III lack unity of invention.

The special technical feature of group I is considered to be a method of manipulating the genome of an infectious RNA virus.

Art Unit: 1648

The special technical feature of group II is considered to be a the nucleic acid sequence of an infectious RNA virus clone.

The special technical feature of group III is considered to be a method a modifying an RNA virus and a vaccine using the modified RNA virus.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

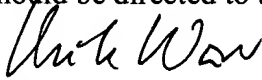

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
